ABOUT RAIL

SAFETY WEEK

STARTED SEVEN YEARS AGO IN THE U.S., RAIL SAFETY WEEK (RSW) HAS SAVED LIVES BY EDUCATING AND EMPOWERING THE PUBLIC TO MAKE SAFE DECISIONS AROUND TRAINS AND TRACKS.

This annual week-long event, which seeks to prevent railroad crossing and trespass incidents across North America, concentrates public attention on the need for rail safety education. RSW is observed across North America, led by Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI), Operation Lifesaver Canada and the Mexican Association of Railroads (AMF).

In 2023 RSW was observed from Sept. 18–24 in the U.S., Canada and Mexico sharing the rail safety message.

INTRODUCTION

GROWING OUR #RAILSAFETYWEEK

PARTNERSHIPS TO #STOPTRACKTRAGEDIES

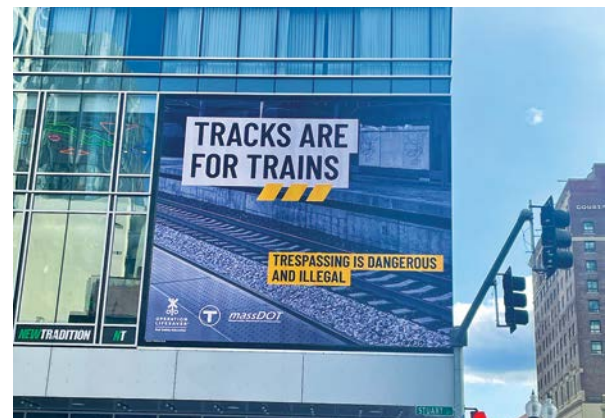

Rail Safety Week is a collaborative effort among Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI), its Board of Directors, State Operation Lifesaver Programs and safety partners across the U.S., Canada and Mexico. From Sept. 18–24, 2023, OLI and its partners shared the rail safety message throughout North America through official proclamations, in-person events and coordinated social media efforts and campaigns as well as community events educating the public on how to stay safe near railroad tracks and trains.

In addition to sharing lifesaving rail safety messages throughout the week, OLI released two new Stop Track Tragedies Public Service Announcements (PSAs) as well as engaging new educational materials helping children from Pre-K through age 12 prepare to make safe choices when riding transit and commuter trains. A growing group of partners shared OLI materials and created videos in support of Rail Safety Week, elevating the message and raising awareness to Stop Track Tragedies.

“WE ARE GRATEFUL FOR INCREASING PARTNER ENGAGEMENT EACH YEAR DURING RAIL SAFETY WEEK, EMPOWERING MORE COMMUNITIES TO MAKE SAFE CHOICES NEAR RAILROAD GRADE CROSSINGS AND ALONG RAILROAD RIGHTS-OF-WAY.”

EXCITING NEW RESOURCES TEACH YOUNG CHILDREN SAFE PRACTICES WHEN RIDING RAIL TRANSIT

In keeping with the Transit Safety Thursday theme, OLI released engaging new educational materials – a coloring book, activity book, activity sheets and animated video for children from Pre-K through age 12. In the video, OLI’s “See Tracks? Think Train!” mascot, known as ST3, comes to life, teaching young riders how to make safe choices on transit platforms as well as when riding trains. The coloring book for the youngest riders and activity book for older kids also feature ST3, offering fun images to color and engaging activities teaching important safety concepts in an entertaining way.
